A word of explanation with this sixth index. All earlier indexes have been prepared and edited by Pieter Boogaart. They were very comprehensive, for this field is notorious for its variation in nomenclature. Rita Boogaart has taken over now, and compiled this one with advice from Pieter. So it follows the same conventions as our earlier Indices.

Articles are in Bold. Authors of Articles, Letter-writers and Magazines are in Small caps. Book titles are in italics; page reference numbers for illustrations (with or without relevant text) are also in italics. As the names and shapes of counties are still in a transition process, we retain the old two letter code for them, as shown below, with Wales, Scotland and Ireland being prefixed by X, Y and Z respectively. Other countries are denoted by their international licence plate letters: D, F, PL etc. Dutch provinces have a two letter code; French Départements have numbers. American states, also (officially) abbreviated to two letters, are prefixed by $, thus NY is North Yorkshire, $NY is New York State.

In the meantime the Folly Fellowship uses internet more and more now. On our website www.follies.org.uk you can find all sorts of information and links. You can also download the Folly Fellowship's e-bulletin foll-e there. And an index for Follies magazine 1-60. The present index 61-72 we hope to insert into that soon, so that internet users can find everything in one very large document. At your service! We hope all will benefit.—R.B.
